

Mapleleaf Viburnum

Viburnum acerifolium

A thicket-forming shrub, the flat-topped clusters of white flowers are followed by berries which turn from red to blue-black. Foliage is very colorful in fall. Grows best in well-drained, moist soil, with partial shade, but tolerates of acid soil, dry conditions and deep shade.

Bloom Season:

Mid Spring - Mid Summer

Flower Colors:

White

Soil Tolerance:

Average, Clay, Sandy, Dry, Moist, Well drained

Height: 4-6 feet

Spread: 3-5 feet

PERENNIAL

