

ONG ISLAND

XX CX

Virginia Creeper Parthenocissus quinquefolia

An easily grown, attractive, deciduous vine. In the fall, the leaves turn bright red and make a showy contrast with its blue berries. Unlike some climbing vines, it adheres via adhesive discs rather than penetrating rootlets. Will easily climb deer netting. May be grown as a ground cover.

PERENNIAL
Height: 3-40 feet	Spread: 5-10 feet
Soil Tolerance:	Average, Clay, Sandy, Dry, Moist, Well drained
Flower Colors:	Green, White
Bloom Season:	Mid Spring - Late Spring

