

Also known as Cottongrass Bulrush or "Teddy-bear paws." This is a densely-tufted, clumping rush that can be found in our wetlands. Many brown, woolly bristles surround its nutlets giving a fuzzy appearance. Good for moist gardens and alongside ponds. Woolgrass is the host plant for the Dion Skipper butterfly and provides food for waterfowl.

Bloom Season: Mid Summer - Mid Fall

Flower Colors: Brown, Green

Moist, Poorly drained Soil Tolerance:

Height: 3-6 feet Spread: 1-2 feet

PERENNIAL

https://db.linpi.org/sccy