

Spotted Joe Pye Weed

Eutrochium maculatum

Spotted Joe Pye Weed is an herbaceous perennial growing up to 7 feet tall. It boasted the northernmost native range of the genus, reaching New Quebec and the Mid-Boreal Uplands. It is loved by all kinds of pollinators, such as Eastern Tiger Swallowtails and Carpenter Bees. The pale pink to purple flowers open late summer to early fall. It is tolerant of deer, rabbits, and high moisture, being found in the wild in sunny wetlands. The leaves will crisp if allowed to dry out. The plants would appreciate afternoon shade during the summer months. Safe for pets.

Bloom Season:	Late Summer - Early Fall
Flower Colors:	Pink, Purple
Soil Tolerance:	Average, Clay, Moist, Poorly dra
Height: 4-7 feet	Spread: 3-4 feet
PERENNIAL

