

Maryland Goldenaster

Chrysopsis mariana

This showy wildflower is easy to grow and low maintenance. Found in open fields, disturbed areas, usually in sandy soils alongside our native grasses. Its bright yellow daisy-like flowers attract lots of pollinators and transform into fuzzy spherical seedheads in Fall. Drought tolerant once established.

Bloom Season: Mid Summer - Early Fall

Flower Colors: Yellow

Soil Tolerance: Average, Sandy, Dry, Moist, Well drained

Height: 1-3 feet

Spread: 1-2 feet

PERENNIAL

